The Magic of the Alphabet written by a Master Story Teller.

Author sets to discover the magic of the written word inside the beautiful Spanish alphabet.

Author Daniel Cruz believes in Magic: the Magic of the written word and the power of the alphabet arranged into a powerful collection of spells. Story telling is in the blood of the author. “My ancestors, the native South American Indians, had an immensely rich and powerful culture. Story telling was for them a way to teach their children and their children’s children a moral code, that after centuries, remains the backbone of our identity. With my stories, I want to recreate the feeling of storytelling to teach boys and girls the beauty of the Spanish language and at the same time, teach them lessons for life”. He adds, “Spanish is a beautiful and romantic language spoken in a whole continent. More and more people outside Latin America, are looking to the continent in pursuit of opportunities and the warmth of our nations. In many ways, Spanish is the new universal language and today’s kids have a unique opportunity to learn the richest of the languages on earth”.

To this end, Cruz has written Bajo el Arbol de las Letras, a superbly illustrated new book for children of all ages that stars you and me, characters of flesh and blood that live very ordinary experiences with a very extraordinary outcome. With a short story for each letter of the alphabet, you are surely setting yourself for an extraordinary journey.
